

improved. A Union soldier had a one-in-eight chance of dying of disease, compared with a one-in-18 chance of dying in battle.

 281,881 The estimated number of Union soldiers wounded in the course of the Civil War. One in every four Union soldiers who served in the conflict either died or was wounded.