

CONFEDERATE GENERAL (1803-62)

ALBERT S. JOHNSTON

Born in Kentucky, Johnston fought against Mexico as a general in the Texan Army and the U.S. Army. He was commander of the Pacific Department in California when the Civil War broke out, making a hazardous crossing of the southwest to join the Confederacy. Much admired by President Davis, he was appointed a full general and commander of the Western Department. Although the loss of forts Henry and Donelson had harmed his reputation, his death at Shiloh was still a blow to the Confederate cause.
