

UNION GENERAL-IN-CHIEF Born 1822 Died 1885

Ulysses S. Grant

Dogged fighter

Grant is pictured outside his headquarters after the Union defeat at Cold Harbor in June 1864. With his qualities of aggression, determination, coolness under fire, and clarity of purpose, he finally achieved his goal to “get possession of Lee’s army.”