

The Fury of Abolition

The great majority of prominent abolitionists were white, many of them pastors who were loath to preach a doctrine of violent insurrection. With their personal experience and hatred of enslavement, Black abolitionists challenged these white abolitionists who preached pacifism and patience.