

AFTER

The Union victory at Chattanooga reinforced Northern resolve after the defeat at Chickamauga had tarnished the jubilation of Gettysburg and Vicksburg.

REACTIONS NORTH AND SOUTH

Copperhead politicians who appeared poised to win control of key districts in the lower North now doubted their chances. In the South the optimism of September was destroyed.

CONFEDERATE MORALE EBBS

The Confederates now faced the possibility of an invasion into northern Georgia, while Joseph E. Johnston replaced Bragg in command.