

Lincoln is re-elected president

After victories for the Union at Atlanta and Mobile Bay, Abraham Lincoln convincingly defeats his Democratic opponent, George McClellan, in the presidential election. Lincoln wins 22 states to McClellan's three.