

JANUARY

JANUARY

Though little large-scale fighting takes place, there is much skirmishing from Virginia to Tennessee and Mississippi.

JANUARY 20

Confederate worries that Union naval vessels might try to capture Mobile Bay in Alabama are justified when Admiral David Farragut makes a reconnaissance in force.

JANUARY 29-31

The Union bombardment of Charleston, South Carolina, begun five months earlier, intensifies with 583 rounds being fired in three days.