

MARCH

MARCH 1-2

General Judson Kilpatrick leads a Union cavalry raid on Richmond, Virginia, hoping to free its prisoners of war; instead his forces are turned aside and scattered by local militiamen.

MARCH 9

General Ulysses S. Grant is appointed commander-in-chief of all Union armies.

Grant appointed commander-in-chief

MARCH 10

General Nathaniel Banks undertakes a two-month, joint army-navy expedition up Louisiana's Red River to thwart Confederate forces in the Trans-Mississippi western United States.

MARCH 16

Confederate General Nathan Bedford Forrest mounts a month-long raid into Union-held Tennessee and Kentucky.