

Maneuvering toward Richmond

In May 1864, on the muddy roads to Richmond, a massive Union cavalry raid was repulsed at the gates of the city, while General Robert E. Lee, matching General Ulysses S. Grant's offensive maneuvers, nearly managed to trap a divided Union army on the south bank of the North Anna River.