

Cadet's medal

After the war, Virginia presented bronze medals to each of the cadets who fought at New Market—or if killed or mortally wounded in action, to the cadet's next of kin.