

Hard moments

Lance Corporal James C. Farley breaks down over the death of fellow Marines in March 1965. Farley himself survived the war and was awarded the Silver Star, the third-highest US military decoration for valor.

“The national flower ... should be an immense thorn.”

GEORGE OLSEN, DESCRIBING VIETNAM IN A LETTER TO A FRIEND, NOVEMBER 1969