

APRIL 1

Operation Pegasus begins, an advance by US troops along Route 9 to relieve the siege of the Marine base at Khe Sanh.

Route 9, April 1968

APRIL 8

The Operation Pegasus relief force joins up with the Marines at Khe Sanh, ending the siege after 77 days.

APRIL 11

Defense Secretary Clark Clifford tells General Westmoreland he will not be given the extra troops he has stated he needs to win the war.

APRIL 30–MAY 3

US Marines repulse a major incursion by North Vietnamese troops across the DMZ in the Battle of Dai Do (or Dong Ha).

MAY 5–27

In the "Mini Tet" Offensive, the Viet Cong carries out attacks against 119 targets across South Vietnam, including the Cholon district of Saigon and Tan Son Nhut airbase.