

Pleading for peace

This silkscreen poster was one of eight designed and printed in 1968 by students at the Rhode Island School of Design, in Providence. The posters were sold for a few dollars each, mainly to the rising antiwar student population.