

Protest for peace

A Vietnam veteran throws his service coat, medals attached, onto the steps of the Capitol in 1971. Thousands of medals were discarded in the national demonstration by Vietnam Veterans Against the War. One man reportedly threw away numerous Purple Hearts.