

World War II hero

Abrams twice received the Distinguished Service Cross for extraordinary bravery. On both occasions, his tank advanced ahead of his battalion, against superior forces, inspiring his men and turning the course of battle.