

OCTOBER 26

Henry Kissinger declares that “peace is at hand” in Vietnam, despite the rejection of the peace deal by South Vietnam’s President Thieu.

Henry Kissinger

NOVEMBER 7

Richard Nixon is re-elected as president in a landslide victory, winning over 60 percent of the popular vote.

NOVEMBER 14

Nixon assures President Thieu that if Hanoi does not abide by the terms of the proposed peace deal, the US will retaliate swiftly and severely.

DECEMBER 14

As peace negotiations in Paris stall, Nixon and his advisers decide to resume the bombing of North Vietnam.