

Denouncing modernity

A Cambodian cyclist passes broken cars on the roadside. One of many possessions associated with urbanization and the West, cars were destroyed under the Khmer Rouge regime.

“He who protests is an enemy [and] he who opposes is a corpse.”

COMMON KHMER ROUGE SAYING, QUOTED IN POL POT'S LITTLE RED BOOK BY HENRI LOCARD, 2004