

INTERIOR

Housing just three crew, the interior of the T-72 was cramped and made few concessions to human comfort. Its crew compartment offered nuclear, biological, and chemical (NBC) protection, and the gunner had access to gunsights and a laser range finder for use in the day, as well as infrared sights for use at night.

- 16. Looking down into commander's position
- 17. Commander's sight
- 18. Looking down into gunner's position
- 19. Gunner's sight
- 20. Commander's seat back and pistol case
- 21. Gun elevation handwheel
- 22. Main gun breech and autoloader
- 23. Looking down into driver's position
- 24. Driver's periscope
- 25. Gearshift
- 26. Driver's instrument panel
- 27. Left-hand steering lever