

The high life

GIs pass around a joint in their living quarters on base in Quang Tri. With walls plastered with posters, and a transistor radio blaring music, the scene could easily be confused for young men relaxing at home in the US.