

Reduced to rubble

Vietnamese civilians search through the remains of An Loc's main market for food and valuables on June 22, 1972. Once the siege was over, the inhabitants emerged from underground hiding places to find their homes and livelihoods destroyed by the bombardment.