

Desperate escape

Fleeing the advancing enemy, refugees from the northern provinces of South Vietnam are lowered into a navy boat at Da Nang in March 1975. Thousands flooded transportation routes in the so-called Column of Sorrow.