A

In the above chart, A represents the order block where the price is about to retest. After a while, the price retraced back to the marked order block. Note that every time you may not have a perfect order block or a fair-value candle.

B

An order block represents high interest zones of Smart Money and tells you about the subsequent order fulfilment. Around 11:30 a.m. the price tried to breach the order block but failed and Nifty made a bearish Marubozu candle. This bearish candle confirms a sell trade with the entry below its low and the stoploss above its high.
