

THE STRATEGY

The strategy is a combination of two indicators, RSI and Supertrend. The RSI helps in identifying momentum and the Supertrend helps in identifying direction of the market.

With this strategy, we will look for positional trades that will run for a few weeks or a month. Also, if you want to execute a short trade with this strategy, it can only be possible in the derivatives segment: the cash market does not allow you to create a short position.