

Now that you have selected a Nifty index and applied the Relative Strength indicator, look at the Relative Strength. The moment this indicator crosses above the Nifty 50 price we are going to choose a stock from that index. I know this might be confusing so let's take an example.

