

Let me show you some examples now.

In the above image, you can see that the Nifty 50 has established an uptrend after breaking the high of the day's first 1-minute candle. After breaking the high, it is consolidating within a range, this is where I will be looking for a range breakout and buy the Nifty 50. Once the range is broken, I will buy Nifty 50 while keeping my SL on the low of the breakout candle and target a minimum of 1:3 of my risk.
