

WHEN TO SELL?

In the above illustration, a short trade is taken in the downtrend when the Williams %R goes below the -80 level; reverses back to the -50 level and the price is below the 14-period SMA. The entry point for a short trade is below the red candle and the stoploss should be at the swing high. From this trade, it is clear that most of the time your Risk to Reward ratio will be more than 1:2 with a success rate of a minimum of 50%.
