

The core advantage of this strategy is the structured implementation of short straddles using VWAP for managing risk. This approach allows a trade to maximize his/her profits from option time decay in suitable market conditions while limiting losses during adverse market moves.

