

Traders discover how the strategy incorporates a hedging mechanism to mitigate risk during the half-hour trading window. Additionally, individual stoplosses and trailing stops are employed to safeguard positions and maximize potential gains.

