SWING TRADING WITH INSTITUTIONAL MOVES

Strategy video

Swing trading is a popular trading style that many traders look forward to when they do not want to ride wild moves of the market. It is a trading style that people consider doing as it eliminates the chances of market going wild during a session. During my journey in stock market, I have always heard a name that is known for its style of stock trading. Yes, I am talking about Mark Minervini. Mark Minervini is a successful swing trader who is known for trading fast-moving growth stocks while implementing a concrete entry and exit strategy.
