

SPOT MARKET

Now, to buy the underlying asset at the spot - you have a pay-out of the total spot price today. Meaning, that if you have a bakery shop and you need sugar (a commodity, as a raw material), you buy sugar at the market price, in cash – the total amount, today to protect yourself against the fear of an increase in the price of sugar in future when you might need it.

