

SHORTCUTS IN LINUX

Shortcut	Function	Description
Ctrl + u	Delete before cursor	Removes everything before the cursor on the current line. Great for fixing typos quickly.
Ctrl + k	Delete after cursor	Clears everything after the cursor to the end of the line, useful for cleaning up commands.
Ctrl + w	Delete previous word	Deletes the word before the cursor, helping correct mistakes efficiently.
Ctrl + y	Paste deleted text	Restores text deleted using Ctrl + u, Ctrl + k, or Ctrl + w.
Ctrl + x, Ctrl + e	Open command in editor	Opens the current command line in a text editor for easier editing.
Ctrl + r	Reverse search	Searches command history for previously used commands.
Ctrl + o	Execute but keep command	Runs the last command found in reverse search but keeps it visible.
Alt + .	Use last argument	Inserts the last argument of the previous command, useful for reusing filenames.
Ctrl + l	Clear screen	Clears the terminal while keeping scrollbar history.
Ctrl + s	Pause output	Freezes terminal output, helpful for reading long outputs.
Ctrl + q	Resume output	Unfreezes the terminal after using Ctrl + s.
Ctrl + z	Suspend process	Sends the current process to the background (pause).
bg	Resume background process	Moves a suspended process to the background.
fg	Bring process to foreground	Brings a background job back to active use.
Ctrl + x, Ctrl + u	Undo in nano	Reverses the last action in the nano text editor.
Ctrl + x, Ctrl + c	Exit nano without saving	Closes nano without saving any changes.
Shift + PageUp/ PageDown	Scroll terminal	Scrolls through terminal history without using a mouse.
Ctrl + Shift + T	Open new tab	Opens a new tab in most terminal emulators.
Ctrl + Shift + W	Close current tab	Closes the active terminal tab.
Ctrl + Alt + T	Open new terminal	Opens a new terminal window in most desktop environments.
Alt + SysRq + R, E, I, S, U, B	Safe reboot	A safe way to restart an unresponsive system.
Ctrl + Alt + F1-F6	Switch to TTY	Switches to a virtual terminal for troubleshooting.
Ctrl + Alt + F7 (or F2)	Return to GUI	Switches back to the graphical interface.
!!	Repeat last command	Runs the previous command again.
!$	Use last argument	Reuses the last argument from the previous command.
!n	Run command from history	Executes command number n from command history.
Ctrl + d	Logout/close terminal	Exits the current shell session or terminal.
Alt + t	Swap terminal & file explorer	In some file managers, changes layout between terminal and explorer.
Ctrl + x, Ctrl + v	Insert file in nano	Inserts another file into the current one in nano.
Alt + F2	Open run dialog	Opens the run command window in most Linux desktops.