

Fake Investment Schemes and Cryptocurrency Scams

They are out to get you...

The rise of digital finance has unlocked unprecedented opportunities, but it has also paved the way for a surge in fraudulent investment schemes. Cryptocurrency scams and fake fintech investments prey on unsuspecting individuals, luring them in with promises of high returns and cutting-edge technology. In a world where social media influencers flaunt overnight wealth and crypto millionaires make headlines, it's easy to fall for schemes that seem too good to be true – because they usually are.

India has witnessed several high-profile cryptocurrency-related scams and security breaches in recent years, highlighting the risks associated with digital assets. In 2024, WazirX, one of India's largest cryptocurrency exchanges, suffered a major security breach, resulting in a staggering loss of $235 million, raising concerns about cybersecurity in the crypto space. Just a year earlier, the country was rocked by the GainBitcoin Ponzi scheme, which defrauded thousands of investors by promising unrealistic returns, ultimately leading to losses of approxi-
