

Leonard Bernstein

1918–1990, AMERICAN

Known as much for his flamboyant conducting as for his own eclectic compositions, Bernstein was acclaimed worldwide for his contribution to both “serious” concert music and Broadway musicals.