

musical link between East and West, as in his “Waterscape” and “Dream” cycles of works.

Always physically frail, Takemitsu was diagnosed with bladder cancer in the mid-1990s; he also contracted pneumonia, and died in 1996, aged 65.

JAPANESE GARDEN

According to Takemitsu, “Listening to my music can be compared with walking through a garden and experiencing the changes in light, pattern, and texture.”