
BORN 1949, CANADIAN

A Canadian of Chinese descent, Louie blends Eastern and Western influences in her work, which has brought her international recognition and a host of prestigious awards. She was born in Vancouver, and studied at the University of British Columbia and the University of California at San Diego, receiving a master's degree in composition. After spending a decade in California, where she taught piano, theory, and electronic composition, she finally settled in Toronto in 1980. Her first big success was O magnum mysterium for string orchestra, written in memory of the celebrated Canadian pianist Glenn Gould who died in 1982. The piano is her main instrument and solo pieces for it figure prominently in her work, but she has written for a range of forces, including full orchestra, chamber groups, and voice, as well as experimenting with synthesizers and computer-based music. In addition to works for the concert hall, she has written for dance, film, and television.

KEY WORKS: O magnum mysterium, 1982; I Leap Through the Sky with Stars (piano solo), 1991; The Scarlet Princess (opera), 2002; Triple Concerto for Three Violins and Orchestra, 2017
