

Modest Mussorgsky

1839–1881, RUSSIAN

One of Russia's most inventive and unconventional composers, Mussorgsky was derailed by family misfortune and his own chaotic lifestyle. His work was fully appreciated only after his death.