

Gustav Mahler

1860–1911, AUSTRIAN

Mahler's large-scale symphonies and song cycles express neurotic emotion and an elevated spiritual vision in the German Romantic tradition. In his lifetime, he was most famous as a conductor.