

CLAUDE DEBUSSY, 1903

Precociously gifted, Debussy drew inspiration for his music from a wide range of literary and artistic sources. This portrait, by the French painter Jacques-Emile Blanche, shows the pioneering composer in his early forties.