

The Dream of Gerontius, Elgar's choral work setting a poem by Cardinal Newman, is staged in Birmingham Town Hall.

1908

Symphony No. 1, premiered by the Hallé Orchestra in Manchester, is a popular and critical triumph.

1910

The first performance of Elgar's technically demanding and lyrical Violin Concerto is given by Fritz Kreisler.