

The ultra-radical dissonance and earth-stamping rhythms of The Rite of Spring cause an audience “riot” at the Paris premiere.

1920

In a shift of musical direction, the ballet Pulcinella combines rhythmic energy with tunefulness and roguish humor.

1917–23

Taking six years to complete, Les Noces (The Wedding) builds an entire ballet score out of fragments of Russian folk song.

1930

The statement of Stravinsky’s rediscovered Russian Orthodox faith,
