

SERGEI PROKOFIEV, 1900

Prokofiev is shown here at his piano, aged nine. The following year—having already received piano lessons from his mother for six years—the young musician composed his first opera.

“ ... an unrelenting muscular exhibition of a completely novel kind of piano