

Lili Boulanger

1893–1918, FRENCH

The tragically short-lived composer and pianist Boulanger was the first woman to win the coveted Prix de Rome award for composition. She is considered one of the 20th century's most talented composers.