

CONCIERTO DE ARANJUEZ

This is a braille manuscript for Rodrigo's Concierto de Aranjuez. He wrote all his music in braille, which was then transcribed into standard notation.

Prominent composer

Thereafter, he became a prominent member of the musical establishment, head of music broadcasts for Spanish radio, professor of the history of music at the Complutense University of Madrid, and music critic for national newspapers. He continued to write music, including 11 concertos and orchestral and chamber works, but none of his subsequent compositions achieved the same degree of popular acclaim as the Concierto de
