

UNITED STATES MARINE

JOB DESCRIPTION

Marines operate simultaneously on the sea, on shore, and in the air. They are often called upon first for their rapid and efficient response to conflicts or humanitarian efforts anywhere in the world. Marines also deal with unexpected threats, stopping them from becoming more dangerous.

SALARY

Enlisted Marine ★★★★★
Commandant ★★★★★

INDUSTRY PROFILE

Highly competitive due to the rigorous aspects of the job • Actively recruiting exceptional applicants • Approximately 190,000 Marines on active duty

AT A GLANCE

YOUR INTERESTS Serving your country • Mathematics • Engineering • Technology • Firefighting • Boats • Security • Aviation

ENTRY QUALIFICATIONS Age, education, and residency requirements must be met in order to join the military. Physical and written exams are required.

LIFESTYLE Marines must be ready to move into action on extremely short notice. As with other military careers, a uniform is required.

LOCATION Marines live, serve, and train primarily on the east and west coasts. Missions can take them to extreme locations all over the world.

THE REALITIES An intense recruit training process and high levels of risk in extreme conditions make this a physically and mentally strenuous job.

▼ RELATED CAREERS

- ▶ AIRLINE PILOT see pp. 214–215
- ▶ ARMY SOLDIER see pp. 230–231
- ▶ POLICE OFFICER see pp. 240–241
- ▶ FIREFIGHTER see pp. 248–249
- ▶ HELICOPTER PILOT Flies helicopters and can choose from a variety of work such as law enforcement, firefighting, emergency medical services, search and rescue, aerial photography, and cargo delivery. Training can be expensive and working hours can be irregular.

Many Marines find the reserves a great way to serve part-time while balancing military and civilian life.

