

ACCIDENT COVER

Accident cover is one of the most under-advertised types of insurance because the people who sell it are not incentivized for the same. It is one of the most important forms of insurance.

The medical expenses, in case any inconvenience to a person are met by health insurance. In case of death, it is taken care of by life insurance. But what happens if the person lives on with a temporary or permanent disability? The recovery might take from a few months to a few years based on the event. The person has to bear the increase in expenses relating to his treatment for a very long time and all of it may not be covered by health insurance. Additionally, due to the disability, the person's ability to earn can also take a hit. In this period of increased expenses and reduced income, how would one sustain their financial well-being? The answer is through accident cover insurance.
