

BASED ON TIME AND SKILL

Should the investments be made using debt instruments directly or via indirect methods? Again we have to evaluate if we have the skill and time to analyze debt instruments. Understanding fixed-income assets and their analysis too require the same time and same rigour as with direct equity investments. Upon the lack of either, we should invest in fixed income assets via an indirect route only.