

So far we have managed our day to day expenses, emergency needs and lastly, our insurance needs. Going ahead we will learn to manage our assets and liabilities so that they are in the best position to help us meet our financial goals. We have taken care of the short term factors and protected our downside so far. As we move on, we will take care of the long term planning and focus on our upside. We know that getting to this stage may take up to 1-2 years for individuals. If someone has surplus assets, then it can be done faster.
