

We can now manage our own money and if not, approach an expert to aid us in managing our liabilities. It might be simple ordinary math but it's the execution that is the key challenge. And finally, we come to the end of our discussion on liabilities. When we move to the asset side of the growth system, we have the liabilities under control and are now planning our assets to meet the goals on a very strong foundation.

