

6.5 Management Background

In the previous sections we have learned about a company's products and services, industry, the health in which they operate, the business, and its strengths. In this section, we will discuss management background as a part of business research.

Management Background

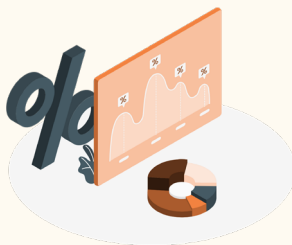

How much of the company does Management own?

Is it owner operated or not?

Management's Compensation Plan

ESOPs vs Commissions vs Fixed Salary

What percentage of management's net worth is the company?

How significant is the company to its management?