

Let's say we like a certain company and its business. Next is to determine an attractive price to invest in the same. For that, we'll move on to the valuation phase. We're interested to see if the price makes sense for us to buy or not.

Furthermore, we must accept that there is no such thing as a perfect company. No company will tick every box. It's just that we need to identify. Which are the ones we are comfortable with.

This brings us to the end of our discussion of company evaluation. Let's move to valuations.
